David Holt for Senate Campaign Announces “One of Us” Team

With just 75 days remaining before candidate filing, the campaign to elect David Holt the next State Senator from the 30th District of Oklahoma today announced its “One of Us” Team. The Team is composed of 100 citizens from all walks of life and every corner of the Senate District. Its members firmly believe that as “one of us,” David Holt is the best candidate to represent our community in the Oklahoma State Senate.

Reflective of David Holt’s lifelong passion for this community, the “One of Us” Team includes small business owners, pastors, public safety officers, veterans, educators, school board members, the publishers of both community newspapers, doctors, city council members, the mayors of all four cities, young professionals, and dedicated Republican Party activists.

The entire membership of David Holt's “One of Us” Team can be found below, and is also linked here.

“As in every great community, our way of life is preserved by regular folks who work hard every day,” said Holt. “These are the people who make our economy go, help us understand our faith, keep us safe, and protect our freedom. These are the people who educate our children, produce our community newspapers, keep us healthy, and manage our tax dollars. I am a product of the great people in this community, and they are the people I want to serve. I am grateful for the life they have given me, and I am honored to have their support.”

“I have known David Holt most of my life, and I am so glad that we have the opportunity to vote for someone who is truly one of us,” said LaNeale Robertson, who with her husband Chris is raising two children in the 30th District. LaNeale and Chris are both graduates of Putnam City Schools and Southern Nazarene University. “David’s passion for our community is obvious to anyone who meets him, and his values represent who we are. He will be a great State Senator for us.”

“David Holt has the right background in our community, the values and the experience to represent us with integrity,” said Danny Thomason, who is raising three boys in the 30th District with his wife Deanna. “I will be proud to vote for David Holt to be our next State Senator.”

“My family wants our State Senator to be conservative, hard-working, and one of us,” said Lorne Hall, a small businessman in the 30th District and President of Western Lawns. “That is David Holt, and I believe he will continue the excellent representation that our community has enjoyed for many years.”

With his conservative values, experience, deep roots in the district, and commitment to public service, David Holt is uniquely qualified to be the next State Senator from the 30th District. The son of a conservative activist mother and a father who spent three decades teaching in the Putnam City School District, Holt was raised in Northwest Oklahoma City, attending Putnam City Schools from kindergarten through graduation. A former White House aide to President George W. Bush, he is an active community volunteer, serving on the boards of the Putnam City Schools Foundation, the Northwest Chamber, and the Oklahoma County Republican Party, amongst many other organizations. David and his wife Rachel have been married for nearly seven years, and they have one son, George. They are active members of St. Paul's Episcopal Cathedral.

The 30th Senate District of Oklahoma includes portions of Northwest Oklahoma City, Bethany, Warr Acres and The Village. It is currently represented by Glenn Coffee, who is term-limited. David Holt officially entered the race on June 2, 2009. For the last five months, Holt has been continuously knocking on the doors of voters and personally asking for their vote, and he has also achieved a 6-to-1 fundraising advantage over his only opponent, with over 400 donors supporting his grassroots campaign.
